Dear Sir:

TECHNOLOGY CENTER R3700

I, Matthew Todd Hupp, hereby declare that I have been employed by The Procter & Gamble Company from June 1998 to the present. I am a named inventor in the above-identified issued patent.

The invention described and claimed in U.S. Pat. No. 6,394,299, filed on January 11, 2000, was developed in part by me and in part by Michael Sean Farrell, both of whom collaborated during the conception of the invention disclosed and claimed in the above-identified patent.

At the time, I executed the above-identified application, believing that I was the only inventor to be included in the executed papers, without deceptive intent. I have subsequently been apprised that I was in error and that the contributions of Michael Sean Farrell relative to the invention disclosed and claimed in the patent are sufficient to render him a joint inventor.

Thus, I agree to the change of inventorship naming Michael Sean Farrell as co-inventor.

I hereby further declare that all statements made herein are of my own knowledge and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

Dear Sir:

TECHNOLOGY CENTER R3700

I, Michael Sean Farrell, hereby declare that:

I have been employed by The Procter & Gamble Company from June 1999 to the present. I was not included in the above-identified invention due to error.

The invention described and claimed in U.S. Pat. No. 6,394,299, filed on January 11, 2000, was developed in part by Matthew Todd Hupp and in part by Michael Sean Farrell, both of whom collaborated during the conception of the invention disclosed and claimed in the above-identified patent.

At the time Matthew Todd Hupp executed the above-identified application, he believed that all of the inventors were included in the executed papers, without deceptive intent. Matthew Todd Hupp has subsequently been apprised that he was in error and that the contributions of Michael Sean Farrell relative to the invention disclosed and claimed in the patent were sufficient to render him a joint inventor, a conclusion in which Matthew Todd Hupp concurs.

The inventorship error occurred without deceptive intention on my part and was discovered when the omission of Michael Sean Farrell as a joint inventor was brought to the attention of the attorney handling the prosecution of the above-identified patent application. The error was discovered in August, 2003 after the filing of the subject application and issuance of the patent. Michael Sean

Farrell, Matthew Todd Hupp and their attorney have diligently attempted to correct the inventorship in this case.

I hereby further declare that all statements made herein are of my own knowledge and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.
